Course Overview

Basic firearms training or prior military or law enforcement experience does not fully prepare security professionals for the diverse demands of operational security in the private sector.

The Advanced Firearms for Security Professionals (AFSP) Course builds upon existing knowledge, providing advanced, practical skills and continued professional development (CPD) for individuals and teams. Learners gain proficiency in dynamic shooting, team drills, and operational scenarios, including firing in and out of vehicles, fire and manoeuvre exercises, and simulated engagements using simmunition for realistic training outcomes.

Delivered by instructors with extensive military and private security experience, this course ensures participants achieve high-level competence, confidence, and operational readiness in firearms handling.

Who is the course for?

This course is designed for security professionals seeking to enhance or maintain their firearms capability, including:

- Security operatives requiring CPD in firearms skills
- Executive protection and close protection teams
- Private security staff transitioning from military or law enforcement backgrounds
- Security teams rotating through advanced firearms refresher training
- Operational leaders responsible for team firearms readiness

Participants should have existing firearms training or operational experience.
